Team Notations have also undergone a radical overhaul. Notations will be more contextual, illustrating the type of ball move as opposed to a specific part of the body. Further additions include the “Player Preview,” “Focus Mode,” “Forwards Mode” and “Goalkeeper Mode.” “Player Preview,” the new leaderboard, allows users to view players and teams with an AI-created highlight reel of the week in-game, as well as take a closer look at players with a detailed “Player Story” and “Flexible Team Notation.” These annotations, “Goalkeeper Mode,” and “Forwards Mode,” are added to the standard mode to help teach players the ins-and-outs of new team formations. “Flexible Team Notation” allows players to use the ball at their feet and change the formation in real-time with the aim of gaining an advantage. A brand-new AI “Team Sense” will provide opponents with contextual information about the tactics of the player’s team, as well as the players’ strength, fitness, and work-rate. Finally, a new on-field virtual coaching assistant will provide a host of bespoke on-pitch instructions and feedback. FIFA 22 will be available globally for Xbox One on September 27, with the PS4 edition launching in November. Check out the trailer for this edition of FIFA below:

Menu Japan's Second Cold War: North Korea's Nuclear Weapons More than a year after North Korea obtained its first nuclear weapons, Japan has announced that it is considering the possibility of bolstering its own military capabilities to meet the threat from Pyongyang. The country's new Prime Minister Shinzo Abe has said that the specter of a nuclear-armed North Korea is a "strategic" risk for Japan. If Abe's plan is to become effective it must be based on a firmer understanding of the complex array of threats against Japan, not just the limited national security threat Pyongyang poses. Abe has signaled that Japan is ready to confront the nuclear weapons North Korea is developing, but one of the first steps it may take is to obtain its own arsenal. The notion that Abe and other Japanese leaders are in denial about North Korea has been ridiculed by observers. They point out that
