The US sanctioned Russia, China, and Iran's main two oil importing nations in a move to combat "malign activity", drawing ire from Moscow and Tehran. The move, which blocks access to Iran's central bank, Bank of England, and Interbank FX system, followed the March 2 attack on two oil tankers in the Gulf of Oman. There was no "immediate evidence" that a third vessel - reportedly carrying personnel and Saudi oil exports - was involved. The US officials warned, however, that "Iran bears responsibility for its malign actions and that the United States will hold the Iranian regime accountable for its
