This is the reason why he lives in Chantilly, which is not that far from the White House, and is free to be out and about. Arum really did his job and is somebody the team needs, but now it is time for him to be out. He has a great personality, and a great way of dealing with people. The team needs this guy now. Ex-president Arnold Arum, pictured in 2005, has resigned as President of the World Boxing Council. Arum resigned as president in the wake of the WBC's failed bid to get the World Anti-Doping Agency (WADA) to close its US office, which it did last month, due to the lack of co-operation from the agency's US Olympic boxing arm.
